Branchville Correctional Facility Hosts Tent Revival

Tell City, Ind. — September 29, 2009 through October 3, 2009, Branchville Correctional Facility hosted an “Old Fashioned Tent Revival.” The purpose of the event was to broaden the spirituality of any interested offender.

Lasting for 5 days, the revival had an attendance of over 1,700 offenders from numerous denominations. Attending offenders were involved in prayer, special music, singing, sermons, and personal testimonies.

Over 50 volunteers from local churches and civic organizations helped organize and administer the revival. With the generous support of all involved volunteers, the event was put on at no cost to the State of Indiana. With the success of this years revival, Branchville Correctional Facility’s Religious Services Department hopes to make this an annual event.

Anyone interested in volunteering for next years event or any other special projects at the facility can call Community Involvement Coordinator, Tim Jellison at 812-843-5921.
